

Hospitality

In the hospitality industry, big and small players alike must cope with ongoing volatility in demand. Seasonal, economic, demographic, and regulatory factors all play a part. Cosgrave's hospitality team includes lawyers from our transactions, litigation, and employment groups, who together can help clients plan for and manage legal issues.

Risk can arise from many different sources, such as customers, vendors, and competitors. Rather than letting legal issues and risk factors divert attention from their businesses, clients from the hotel, restaurant, and retail sectors put their confidence in Cosgrave's lawyers. Clients can continue to take care of business while we help them handle a wide variety of legal matters.

Our lawyers are equally adept at counseling locally owned businesses and, through referrals from our ALFA network, international companies with local interests. Our comprehensive services for hospitality clients include the following:
