Law Practice

Nick is a trial lawyer with a practice focused primarily on defending product liability and legal malpractice claims. Despite practicing in the age of the “vanishing civil jury trial,” Nick has tried more than 15 jury trials in state and federal court.

Nick serves as the Chair of Cosgrave’s Product Liability & Medical Device Practice Group. As a product liability attorney, he primarily defends product manufacturers and resellers of a wide range of industrial and consumer products, with an emphasis on mechanical and electrical failures.

Nick’s legal malpractice work spans a wide range of substantive practice areas, with an emphasis on matters arising out of estate planning/probate and business disputes. He also defends railroad and transportation companies along with other general property damage, personal injury and wrongful death lawsuits.

Prior to entering private practice, Nick interned for Ancer L. Haggerty, then-Chief District Judge of the District of Oregon. He also clerked for the Appellate Division of the Oregon Department of Justice.

Representative Cases

Product Liability Defense

Recreational Vehicles: Obtained defense verdict on behalf of recreational vehicle manufacturer following a jury trial arising out of alleged violations of the Magnuson Moss Warranty Act and the Oregon Unlawful Trade Practices Act, in addition to claims for strict product liability, negligence and fraud.

Farm/Industrial/Construction Equipment: Obtained directed verdict in favor of product reseller in a jury trial arising out of allegedly defective John Deere tractor that caught fire.

Building Supplies: Obtained favorable high-low settlement on behalf of product retailer in $22,750,000 product liability action arising out of allegedly defective 2"x6" board that broke under plaintiff's body weight during the construction of the roof of a pole barn, causing extensive injuries.

Transportation: Obtained favorable settlement on behalf of product manufacture in $2,150,000 product liability action alleging the axle/suspension system on a commercial belly-dump trailer was defective and caused plaintiff's tractor-trailer to rollover in a corner on a highway.

Medical Device/Pharmaceutical: Obtained favorable settlement on behalf of medical device manufacture in $8,500,000 product liability wrongful death action alleging decedent's house burned down as a result of the medical device spontaneously catching fire.

Legal Malpractice Defense

Obtained defense verdict in jury trial on legal malpractice claim arising out of the alleged negligent handling of a probate estate and related advice about recovery of attorney fees.

Obtained summary judgment on plaintiff's claimed entitlement to $300,000 in emotional distress damages in legal malpractice case arising out of lawyer's alleged negligent handling of plaintiff's divorce. Following summary judgment, obtained favorable settlement on what remained of plaintiff's claim.

Railroad Defense

Obtained defense verdict in jury trial in $4,000,000 employee lawsuit for vibration-based permanent injury and disability, based on claimed violations of the Federal Employer Liability Act and the Locomotive Inspection Act.

Obtained defense verdict in jury trial in $2,250,000 employee lawsuit for permanent injury and disability based on claimed violations of the Federal Employer Liability Act and the Locomotive Inspection Act.

General Liability Defense

Obtained defense verdict in jury trial on $365,000 general liability action alleging plaintiff was negligently struck by a 30 foot metal beam being transported across the forks of a forklift by an employee.

Education & Bar Admissions

Nick holds a Bachelor's degree in Business Administration and Management from Oregon State University. He earned his law degree from the University of Oregon School of Law, where he also served as Associate Editor of the Oregon Law Review.

Nick is a member of the Oregon State Bar, the Washington State Bar, and the United States District Court for the Districts of Oregon and the Western District of Washington.

Professional

Nick's professional memberships include serving on the steering committees of ALFA International's Product Liability & Complex Torts and Professional Liability Practice Groups, the Oregon Association of Defense Counsel, where he recently served as Chair of the Product Liability Practice Group and regularly contributed articles to their quarterly publication "The Verdict," the National Association of Railroad Trial Counsel, the Oregon State Bar and the Multnomah Bar Association.

Civic

Nick's volunteer activities have included the Classroom Law Project High School Mock Trial Competition, Toys for Tots, the American Mock Trial Association, and the New Lawyers Division of the Oregon State Bar.

Personal

Nick and his wife have two sons. Nick enjoys just about anything outdoors, including boating, camping, and fly-fishing. When he isn't doing one of those things, you'll probably find him designing and building furniture in his shop.

Client Comments

“I wanted to take a moment to thank you for all your work on the matter.... You did a great job on this case and made a very favorable impression on the Covered Party. I appreciated all the time and effort you put into this matter and the favorable result that you obtained.”

“At all times I have found Nick to be an excellent source of analysis, advice, counsel and assistance. Nick, literally, picked up the ball and ran with it like ‘Crazy Legs Hirsch,’ in what was, to me, a mine field.”

“I wish to thank you for your most excellent work on this file and throughout trial. I could not have been more pleased with the outcome, and it certainly was a pleasure working with you. I look forward to doing so again in the near future.”

“I particularly want to thank Nick for the great lawyering job he did on this. It made settlement possible.”

“Thanks for the fine work you did on behalf of our law firm. We appreciate your efforts in getting this matter resolved.”

“It is a good brief with the right amount of outrage without going over the top - well done.”

“It is difficult to express how thankful I am for your help.”
